

GEORGE WARREN BROWN SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work offers a Master of Social Work (MSW) degree program, a Master of Public Health (MPH) degree program, and Ph.D. programs.

Below is a listing of courses being offered by Brown School during the Spring 2017 semester. The School reserves the right to cancel or modify any course/s listed in this section of the catalog. For further information, please contact the Brown School Office of the Registrar, alishawood@wustl.edu.

Procedure for undergraduate students to apply for enrollment in Brown School MSW Program courses: Enrollment of students from other Schools or departments requires permission from the student's home school and the Brown School Office of the Registrar, alishawood@wustl.edu. Students from other Schools must meet certain criteria in order to enroll in MSW Program courses. Failure to comply with these requirements will result in the student being dropped from MSW Program course/s.

Foundation level (S15) MSW Program courses are open to upperclass JR and SR students with prior approval from the student's home school and the Brown School Office of the Registrar.

MSW Program courses at levels S20 & above are open to upperclass JR and SR students on a case-by-case basis. Students can contact the Brown School Office of the Registrar, alishawood@wustl.edu after receiving permission from their home school.

Note: The audit grade option is not available for MSW or MPH Program courses. No more than two undergraduate students will be allowed to enroll in each course section.

Procedure for undergraduate students to apply for enrollment in a graduate-level MSW or MPH Program courses at Washington University in St. Louis: Approval for undergraduates in MSW or MPH courses will be based upon 1) available space after Brown School students have registered and 2) approval of the Brown School Registrar and 3) undergraduate student's advisor. Individual students may take no more than 15 total credit hours of graduate-level MSW or MPH courses as undergraduate students.

Enrollment in and successful completion of a graduate-level MSW or MPH Program course as an undergraduate student does NOT guarantee an undergraduate student admission into the MSW or MPH Program(s) at Washington University in St. Louis. If accepted into the MSW or MPH program(s), courses completed as an undergraduate student will fulfill requirements in the MPH curriculum but will not count towards the credits needed to complete an MSW or MPH degree.

Students seeking information about the Brown School Ph.D. Programs should contact phdsw@wustl.edu or (314) 935-6605.
